

The Texas Non-Fiction Writers' Retreat 2008

October 24 and 25, 2008 at the Cibolo Nature Center in Boerne, Texas

Presented by Texas Non-Fiction Writers, a Web-based non-profit organization that maintains an online community at www.texasnonfiction.org

The Retreat

Join us in a tranquil Hill Country setting for two days that encourage interest and excellence in Texas non-fiction.

Celebrated authors, recognized experts and industry veterans pepper our program, delivering a diverse and engaging look at the craft of non-fiction writing. You'll learn the inside tips, get valuable coaching from pros, and hear war stories from the front line of authorship.

Whether you're a beginning author or a savvy veteran, you'll enjoy the program we've put together. The retreat will bring you new ideas and fresh inspiration, helping keep your writing career on track.

Who should Attend

The Texas Non-Fiction Writers' Retreat 2008 is open to all writers, but caters to those who craft book-length non-fiction about Texas. The program is designed to appeal to writers at all experience levels, and to those in a variety of subject areas. Even writers of fiction will find plenty of helpful information, and will be forgiven for their choice of endeavor.

How to Register

Registration Fee: $50

Online: www.texasnonfiction.org

By phone: (830) 446-9067

By mail: Texas Non-Fiction Writers
18 Toepperwein Rd
Boerne, TX 78006

Michael Erard

Language for Writers

James L. Haley

Writing Texas History

Kathleen Hudson

Performance: Songs & Stories

Elmer Kelton

Writing a Memoir

Jefferson Morgenthauer

Program Chair

Joe Nick Patoski

A Non-Fiction Career

Barbara Ras

One Author at a Time

Andrew Sansom

Writing About Your Passion

Rusty Shelton

Working With a Publicist

Jan Wrede

Writing About Things that Grow

www.texasnonfiction.org